

UPCOMING SUNDAYS

11/28 "GIVING THANKS IN THANKLESS TIMES"

While we would all like to cultivate a thankful attitude toward life, it can sometimes be a challenge--especially in our current era of hyper-polarization and a pandemic that just won't quit. How can we be thankful in thankless times? Online only service.

12/5 "HANUKKAH"

Religious freedom and political resistance are major themes in the story of Hanukkah and the Maccabean revolt against the Seleucid Empire. In this service we will explore how and why these themes are just as relevant now as they have ever been.

12/12 "JOY AND LIBERATION"

Christmas is celebrated as both a secular and religious holiday. We would do well to remember that two of the primary themes of Christmas as a religious holiday are joy and liberation--both of which are sorely needed today.

12/19 "MUSIC OF THE SEASON"

Featuring holiday-themed music from our choir and other Sunnyhill musicians. (This service and following services, unless otherwise noted, will be held in-person in our sanctuary. We ask that you RSVP through an online link that will be provided.)

12/26 "REMEMBERING AND LETTING GO OF 2021"

Service will be held online only and will feature a look back at both the challenging and encouraging aspects of this year. We'll include some highlights from this year's services as well as a "burning ritual" for releasing everything we want to let go of from 2021.

Sunday Services take place at 10am.

All services will be livestreamed on both Facebook and YouTube.
